DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC (See 37 CFR 1.52(e)(5) and MPEP 608.05. Computer program listings (37 CFR 1.96(c)), "Sequence Listings" (37 CFR 1.821(c)), and tables having more than 50 pages of text are permitted to be submitted on compact discs.) or REFERENCE TO A "MICROFICHE APPENDIX" (See MPEP § 608.05(a). "Microfiche Appendices" were accepted by the Office until March 1, 2001.)
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.

- (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:
the specification arrangement fails to comply with the above-mentioned requirements.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Pat No 5,780,859 issued to Feuerbaum et al and US Pat No 6,605,805 issued to Chen.
4. As per claim 1, Feuerbaum et al teach a particle-optical apparatus with a focusing device (see for example col.1, lines 5-18).
5. Feuerbaum et al teach a magnetic/electrostatic lens (see col.2, lines 21-26).
6. Feuerbaum et al teach an electrostatic lens for producing a focusing electric field, in which the beam undergoes an energy change (see col.2, lines 45-49).
7. Feuerbaum et al teach the focusing electric field is placed upstream with respect to a region situated between the focusing magnetic lens and the focus position (see col.3, lines 22-28).
8. Feuerbaum et al does not teach the magnetic lens is provided with permanent-magnetic material for generating the focusing magnetic field required for the lens action.
9. However, Chen teach the desirability of a magnetic lens is provided with permanent-magnetic material for generating the focusing magnetic field required for the lens action (see col.4, line 56-col.5, line 10).

10. It would have been obvious to an ordinary artisan at the time of the invention to combine Feuerbaum et al and Chen, because Chen teach low reluctance path (see col.5, lines 4-10).

11. As per claim 2, Feuerbaum et al teach a region where both the focusing magnetic field and the focusing electric field are present (see fig.2).

12. As per claims 3 and 5, Feuerbaum et al teach the pole pieces of the magnetic lens include a sample-side pole piece that is made of electrically conductive material and functions additionally as an electrode of the electrostatic lens (see col.2, lines 53-63).

13. As per claims 4, 6 and 7, Feuerbaum et al teach an adjustor (see col.1, lines 60-67).
